

Rafikah Sawal
Singapore

She the Paediatric Oncology Speciality Nurse in KK Women's and Children's Hospital. With over 18 years of experience in Paediatric Oncology Nursing. She received multiple award and in 2021 she was awarded with SingHealth Singapore Health Quality Service Awards 2021 (SuperHero Award). SuperHero Awards are given to the top winners from the clinicians, Nursing, Allied Health and Administration categories who have contributed significantly in the nation's fight against COVID-19.

Topic: Current Nursing Practices for Neuro Oncology Paediatric Patients

Nursing practice for neuro-oncology paediatric patient is dynamic and multifaceted, requiring specialised knowledge and skills. Nurses play a pivotal role in ensuring high-quality, compassionate care that address the complex needs of these young patients and their families. Through ongoing education and interdisciplinary collaboration, nursing care continues to evolve, improving outcome and quality of life for children with neuro-oncological conditions.