

Jayson Co
Philippines

Dr Jayson Co is a radiation oncologist and the current training officer of the Department of Radiation Oncology at the University of Santo Tomas Hospital - Benavides Cancer Institute in the Philippines. He earned both his medical degree and completed his residency at the same institution. Furthering his expertise, Dr Co pursued a clinical fellowship specializing in CNS, pediatric, and lymphoma radiation oncology at Princess Margaret Cancer Center in Toronto, Canada. His commitment to academic excellence is underscored by his Master's degree in Epidemiology, which he earned with merit from the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine.

Dr Co is an integral member of multiple tumor boards, including CNS and pediatric tumor boards across various hospitals in the Philippines. His dedication to advancing the field of oncology is further demonstrated through his active participation in the ASCO Leadership Development Program in the Asia Pacific region and the Japan Team Oncology Program.
