

Miriam Kimpo
Singapore

Dr Miriam S. Kimpo is a consultant in the Division of Paediatric Hematology and Oncology from the Khoo Teck Puat University Childrens' Medical Institute at the National University Hospital Singapore. She is Assistant Professor in the Department of Paediatrics at National University Singapore.

She is a graduate of the University of Santo Tomas Philippines with the degrees of Bachelor of Science in Biology and Doctor of Medicine. She underwent training in Paediatrics and fellowship in paediatric hematology and oncology. She is certified with the American Board of Pediatrics.

Her main areas of interest are in the care of children with brain tumors and retinoblastoma.

Topic: The Case for Brain Tumour Specialist Nurses: Benefits, Accountabilities and Challenges